MARK OCHIENG

— About Me

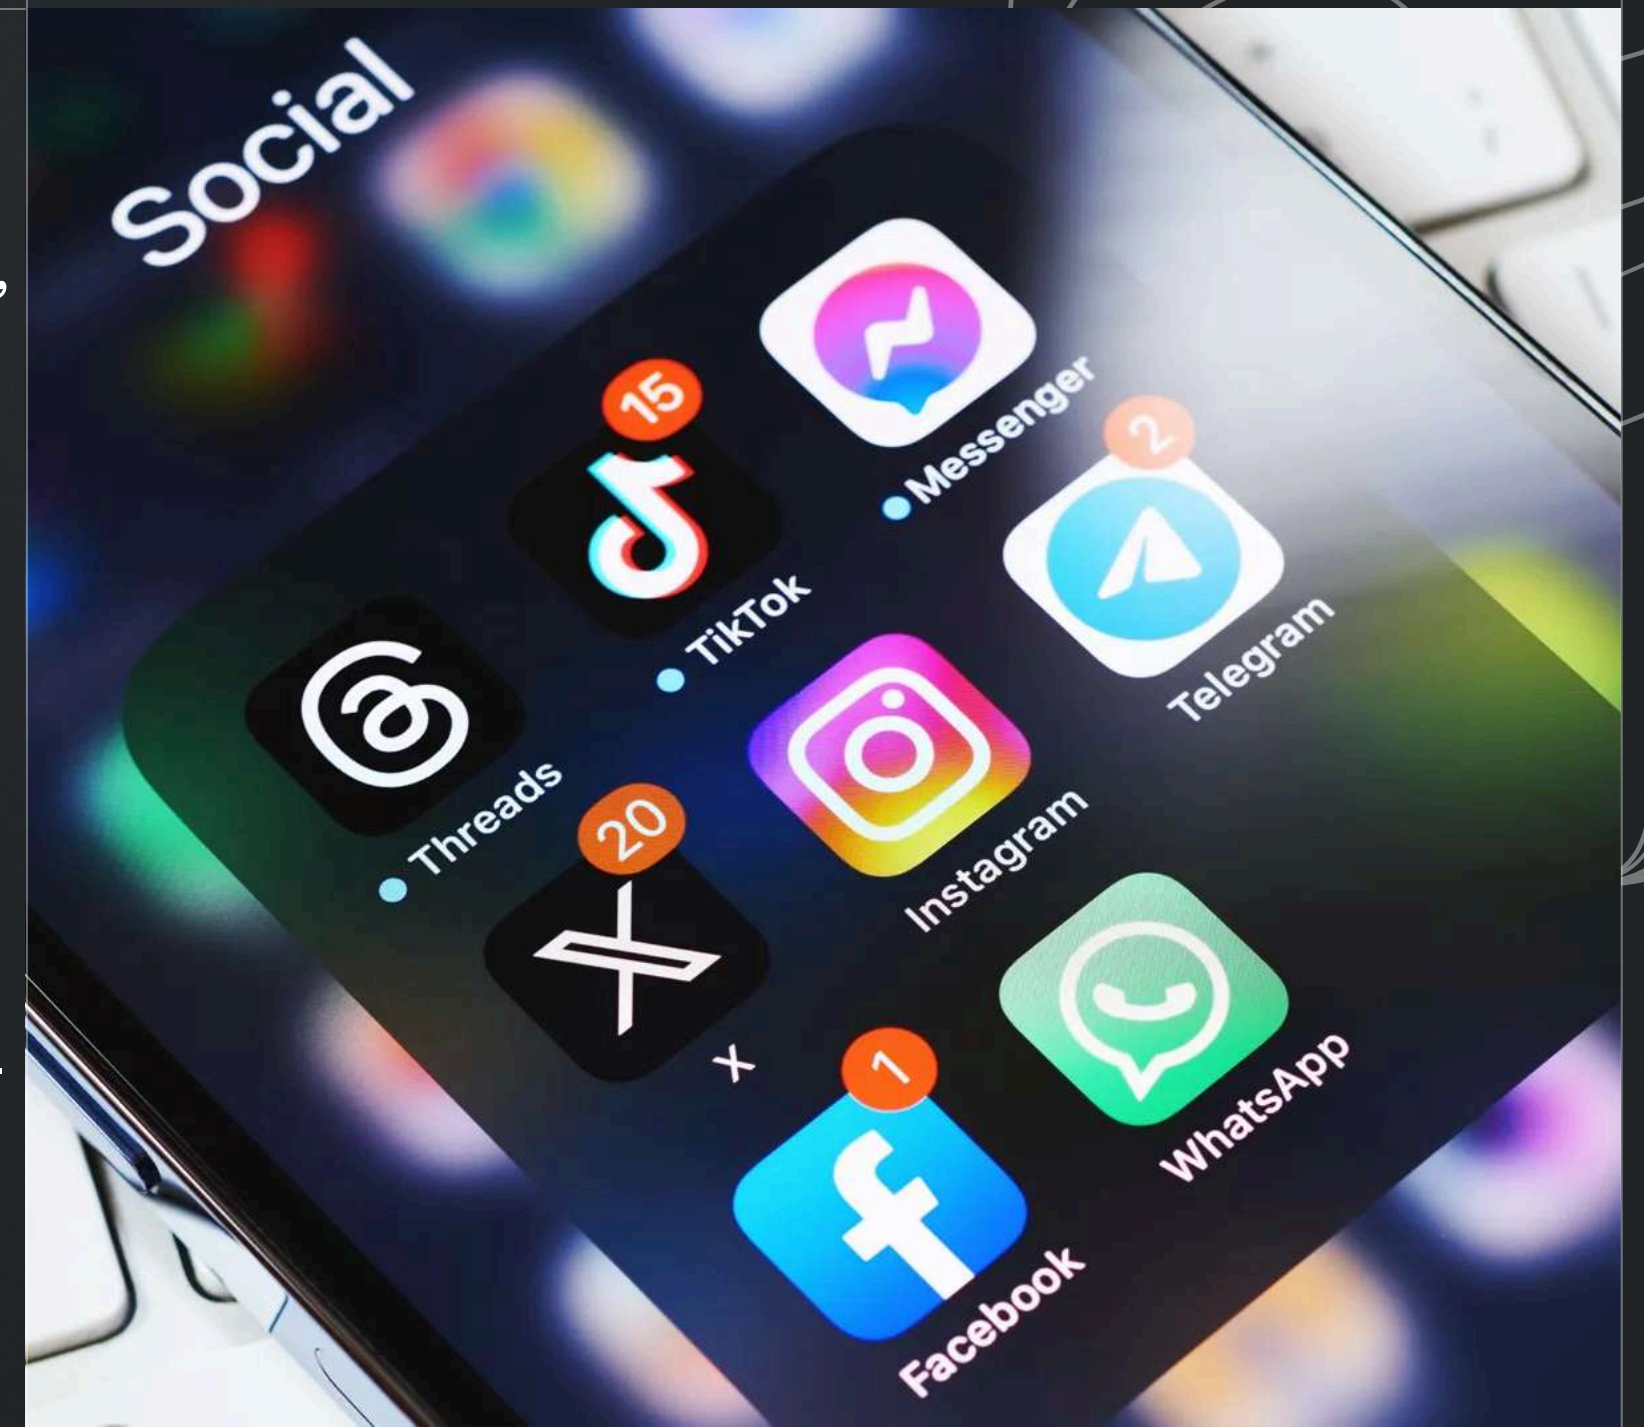

I also hold a Diploma in Information and Communication Technology (ICT) from Siaya National Polytechnic, which strengthens my technical foundation in digital systems, web technologies, and online business tools.

Professional Profile

I am Mark Ochieng Oduor, a digital marketer, social media manager, and web/ecommerce developer with hands-on experience supporting Powerstar Supermarkets' online visibility, audience engagement, and digital growth.

I combine content strategy, social media management, audience insights, performance tracking, website design, coding, and ecommerce development to help businesses build stronger online presence and connect with customers more effectively.

My strength is turning digital platforms into business tools — using content, analytics, design, and technology to improve visibility, support marketing goals, and create better customer experiences.

What I Can Do for Your Business

Increase Brand Visibility

I create and manage content that keeps your brand active, visible, and memorable online.

Improve Customer Engagement

I use stories, posts, reels, offers, polls, and direct communication to keep audiences involved.

Track Performance & Insights

I monitor reach, engagement, impressions, audience behavior, and monthly targets to guide better marketing decisions.

Support Digital Growth

I connect marketing strategy, content, analytics, and web development to help businesses grow their online presence.

Core Expertise
